

Year 3

Q. What did you use to make a plane?
 A. I used wood, balsa, silk and steel to make the plane.
 Q. Why did you choose these materials?
 A. I chose them because I used the wood to connect the wings. And I used steel to make the wings.
 Q. How did the idea to only make a plane.
 because hot air balloons were already going up and the can't travel long distance so I wanted to make a flying machine which would travel

Kunal's interview with the Wright brothers

Design an in-flight meal

My Menu
 Starter: garlic bread, plain bread, toast, burgers, pizza, pasta, noodles.
 Main: chicken, lamb, fish, meat, vegetables, rice, french fries, water, soft drink, bread, sausage, curry.
 Dessert: ice cream, pancakes, waffles, plain, chocolate, vanilla, chocolate, waffles, chocolate, vanilla, chocolate, waffles.

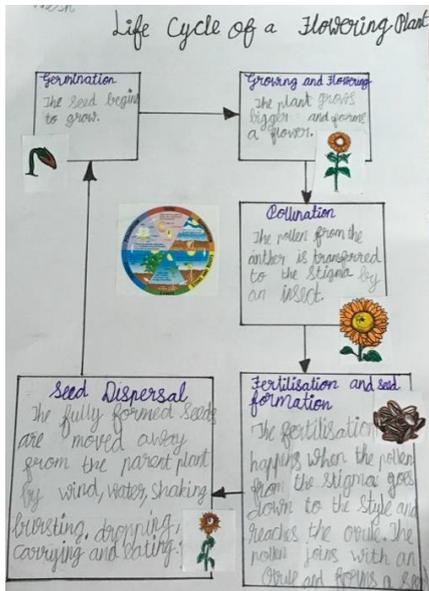

Mohith's in-flight meal

Mokshith's museum artefact - The Smart Machine

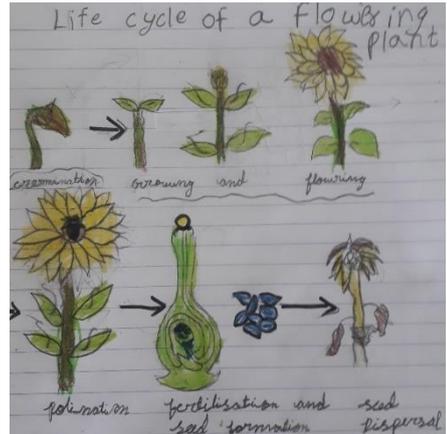

Name: The Smart Machine

I would recommend this for dentist's doctors, nurses and a person doctors. Why I recommend it for these people is because dentists use it for what the problem in the mouth, for dentist doctors what happens in the teeth and for a person what happens in the teeth, what is next to the drawing of machine it's a remote. Now I am going to explain what the remote does. So let's get in to it. So, if you press the pink button on it on and off's the machine, if you press the yellow button it on/off's the light, if you press the purple button the machine comes to you to matter where you are even an artificial, if you press the blue button it activates the tap and pours water in the glass. If you press the dark green button it shows the light in a x-ray mode.

Jay's life cycle of a flowering plant

Vinesh's diagram of the life cycle of a flowering plant

Ananya's life cycle

- g
- g
- Kg
- Kg
- Kg
- Kg
- stapler 50g
- Book 100g
- Book basket 2kg
- Balls 600g
- pinching machine
- laptop 1kg
- unlikely
- likely
- unlikely
- unlikely
- unlikely
- 1 Kg, 30g
- 4 Kg, 60g
- 9 Kg, 60g
- 70g
- 2 Kg, 30g
- 2 Kg, 40g
- 2 Kg, 90g
- 4 Kg, 40g

Prajwal's work on weight

The Year 3s have been up, up and away this week, creating their own time lines to represent the history of flight, standing on furniture to carry out their helicopter flight investigations, interviewing the Wright brothers and preparing in-flight meals... they came down to earth to look at the life cycle of flowering plants in science, weighing and estimating weight in maths, and the use of grammar 14/5/2020

one sunny day / top of the hill / eventually finishing line after a long time.

Time
 On Saturday my dad and me went cycling. I learned a lot and did timed races. And when we got home we made doritos covered chicken popcorn. And celebrated mothers day.

place
 At the train station we were planning to go to Amsterdam for a day. We went shopping for a day. We saw many things. Then we went back and boarded the train and went home.

Flight to India
 Once, every year I go to India. But the recent one was the best one because I was on KLM. Normally we go to Brussels airport but this time we went to Amsterdam airport so we took a train to Amsterdam airport. At the airport I ate the yummiest hotdog ever. Inside the KLM plane, I found one interesting thing about the windows. They had small buttons which made the glass darker, in place of usual shutters.

Year 4

There are some truly impressive pieces of work in the Year 4 Art Gallery this week...they were asked to paint a portrait of the famous pirate, Mary Read

Saumya

Dear Mrs Still, Here are my ideas for the Treasure Hunt

We are going to do the treasure hunt in the Tervuren park. Everyone is going to wear dresses like a pirate. There is going to be a table for the snacks we bring from our houses. There are going to be some decorations For Example: some balloons around the table where the snacks will be. We will need some punches so if someone finds the spot so they can punch it there. We will also need some candy or gifts for the winners and the people who participated and for candy we can provide those candies which look like coins because it will be more realistic for the treasure hunt..

Yours sincerely, Anjika

Dear Mrs Still,

Here are my ideas for the Treasure Hunt. We can arrange it in Gorges Henry park. Let all year 4 girls and their mothers can be good pirates, year 4 boys and fathers can be bad pirates. The Girls and mothers are one team and boys and fathers are one team. The team names? They can decide. One team should make a treasure map and write clues and hide them at some places and mark on their map meanwhile the other team also do the same. We can give at least 40 minutes. Also, some of the team members can hide in one clue spot to help the opponent or can surprise them.

Thanks and regards, Aasritha Salver

The Year 4 writing task this week was to write a letter to Mrs Still suggesting ideas for a BISB Treasure Hunt Fun Day

Thomas

Dear Mrs Still,

Here are my ideas for the Treasure Hunt.

1) We can add obstacle courses in the playground so that it will be more fun than just searching for the clues

2) We can have a map of the playground and only one direction for example (south)

3) Everyone has a turn so that no one will fight

4) the clues will start easy and then as you go on they get tougher

5) the reward will be 2 fruitellas per student

6) at the beginning none of the teachers are aloud to help and on the 5th clue the students have only 3 hints

Kind regards, Aditya

Akshat

Dear Mrs Still,

Here are my ideas for the Treasure Hunt.

Time: I think the children can have a treasure hunt on Friday 15th May 2020. The children should be allowed to go on the hunt after lunch so that means the children who want to go on the Treasure hunt will have to skip their playtime. This will be an optional activity.

Clothes: The students can wear some theme clothing, something like an adventurer or a pirate costume would be fine. They should avoid too many accessories as these might get lost during the event.

Clues: Each pair/group will be given a clue at the beginning. They will follow the clue and arrive at the place where another clue awaits them. They should be glued to the place where they are meant to be. Thus, the last clue will lead to the treasure. The children can follow each other.

Treasure: The first group who finds the treasure (the treasures are candies, sweeties and chocolate coins) gets it. If two groups get it then they will have to share the treats. If the competitors find no treasure they know they failed their expedition but if they see some treasure, they will own it.

Celebration: The students can all bring food and they all have a party to celebrate the winner. Everybody can play the party games and have fun. The children who did not compete can play but won't get prizes because they didn't participate in the event.

With kind regards,

Dhanishka Khatri.

Anjika

Year 5

Rishi's lockdown diary entry

Monday the 16 of March. That was the day I came to know that there is no more school because of corona virus. I was very sad that moment because no school meant that there is no more playing with friends and we could not even meet them or see them.

Then suddenly, that morning I came to know that there is online school. After a few days, we found a much better link called zoom so we started using. It was the best thing for video conferencing I had ever seen. That link was brilliant, awesome, excellent, and perfect working. By next week, everything was working perfectly fine. Sometimes, just sometimes, we used to go for a walk. It was going on nice.

P.E was not a problem because when we could not go outside we did it online. P.E with Joe was superb. P.E with him was fun. We did many different kinds of activity with him.

This week the Year 5 class have been learning all about diary writing. We have looked at examples and discussed the features of these texts. We looked at vocabulary and grammar related to diary entries. We were introduced to the diary of Anne Frank and had a brief discussion about this sad time in history. In Numeracy we have been investigating reflections and 3D shapes and their nets. This all culminated with some Kahoot! quizzes on the subject on Friday. The outright winner of all 3 quizzes was Hithaishi. Well done!

And, on a lighter note, Shinnosuke's story about the Loch Ness monster

One summer Jen and Joe were thinking to ride a boat on the Loch Ness when... "Sorry madam and monsieur the boats are out of stock. We only have kayaks," said the guard. "Oh, man...", replied Jen. "Looks like we have to kayak," said Joe. So, they went to the kayaks and went on them. 1 hour later...

"Wow, I never knew kayaking was so fun!" cried Jen. "Uh...Jen look at this...", said Joe. "Oh, come on. Stop trying to lie to me Joe," replied Jen. "NO...THIS IS SERIOUS!" exclaimed Joe with anger. "Nah, nah, nah, nah. I have had enough of your stupid jokes Joe. Stop trying to prank me," replied Jen. "JEN ARE YOU EVEN LISTENING!" shouted Joe. "Yes, yes and yes and also I am watching a YouTube video. LOOK. AAAAAARRGGGHHH IT'S COMING TOWARD...S ...US!!!!" Screamed Joe. "Come on. Hurry up!" shouted Joe. "Ok...let me see Mr. pranker Joe," replied Jen. Joe was furious and turned Jen's head around. "NOW LOOK!" yelled Joe. Jen was shocked "Is that the Loch Ness monster?" questioned Jen. "Let me just take some photos before we run away like cry-babies," said Jen. CLACK. CLACK.

"Now it's done. We can go," said Jen. "YOU ARE NOT EVEN PUTTING ANY ACTION INTO THIS. DO MORE!" screamed Joe. "w...wait...ARE WE IN A MOVIE and THIS WHOLE THING WAS A PRANK JUST TO RUIN OUR HOLIDAY!?" yelled Jen. "Yeah..." replied Joe.

I'm Anjali as you already might now, so for the past few days I have been writing in this diary of what happens to me everyday! So today my best friend (Lia) and I are going Kayaking!

That was totally not as I expected! I thought Lina new how to Kayak but she told me that she just said that at school so that everyone would think she is so cool, but after all she isn't. What happened was we both were kayaking happily until Lia thought that there was a spider in her boat! I told her that it wasn't a spider and that it was just her imagination!!! But ofcourse she wouldn't listen because she thinks that she is FAB!!!..... To be honest with you after this experience I am never going to Kayak AGAIN!!! So the rest of the day I had to take care of Lia's Spiderophobia! And that for sure is the last time I'm going to be with that nasty girl!

Hi. I am Hithaishi. Future humans, if you're reading this paper right now, I have a warning...

We were all happy, and everyone was fine. Until March 2020. That's when something very disturbing happened. The world got introduced to THE CORONA VIRUS (aka; Covid 19). It started out killing 0.0000001 % of people in the country of China and now has ended up causing the whole world to be in lockdown!

Our experience so far, has been dreadful. Doctors are trying to make the vaccine but are telling us it might be done by next year. I guess this eventually will go away and leave us alone. Anyway, school life has changed for us a lot. All our residential trips got canceled. And now the school itself became virtual! So, we can't even meet our friends. Plus, when going outside for walks or the market-which at this point is the only places we can go to- we need to wear a mask, and we can't touch anything. When we reach back home, we need to wash our hands more than 20 seconds! (That's happy birthday song twice). Our hands became dry like the bark of the trees, because of washing our hands so many times.

Everybody in the world is expected to stay home and do everything. All our parents are working from home and everyone stayed home, this created a different experience for all of us. All our habits have changed a lot, our sleeping, bathing, waking up, eating...

But there were few good things also happened, we all learnt working with digital tools-which will help us a lot in future. As lockdown also shutdown transport, companies, air travel and many more, this reduce the pollution of the world and our mother earth healed a lot.

Slowly, rules of lockdown changed we started meeting people directly. But however, we need to still follow many precautions like wearing mask, no handshakes, no hugs, at least 1.5 meters away from each person. And oh! I forgot to tell you that we are allowed to invite only 4 people in the same family to our houses. Slowly, we have started learning how to live with this Virus.

Even though the virus in the whole world just weight 2 grams, it has shaken up the whole heavy world.

All Future humans, if you're reading this paper right now, think about all that happened to us because we didn't respect nature. If you want to be safe, be eco-friendly.

Hithaishi's diary

Snicker was agitated, but the boys won't (would not) stop laughing. He was frightened, petrified and also angry that he could not stop them from giggling. Then the boys' parents called them so they had to leave. After they left, Snicker thought he was going to be happy ever after. (how wrong he was) He seemed quite wrong, because now his little room-mate, the bug was laughing (laughing)at him too. Suhas' Sentence Stacker chunk

Year 6

The boy looked at the mouse and then came close. Then the mouse, suspiciously looked at the boy. The boy took the cute, clever mouse and opened his headphones. Guess what happened? The boy had big ears too. The boy then took the mouse and they both lived happily ever after. Ronit's Sentence Stacker chunk

The boy hesitantly took his ear-muffs of (f). Snickers, the mouse, looked at him with surprise, but with joy as well. The boy put his hand carefully in the tank, would the mouse bite him? Snickers scurried onto his hand joyfully, merrily and excitedly. The boy placed a few coins onto the counter, but before the shopkeeper took them he mesmerised (was mesmerised by) at the likeness between pet and owner, mouse and boy, big guy and little guy. The boy cheerfully strolled and skipped out of the shop looking at his mouse proudly, there big ears twitching in a likeness.

Aashvi's Sentence Stacker chunk for 'Mouse for Sale'

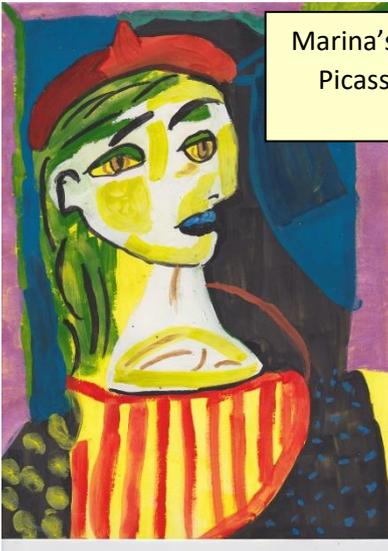

The challenge: Complex sentence - But

Repetition

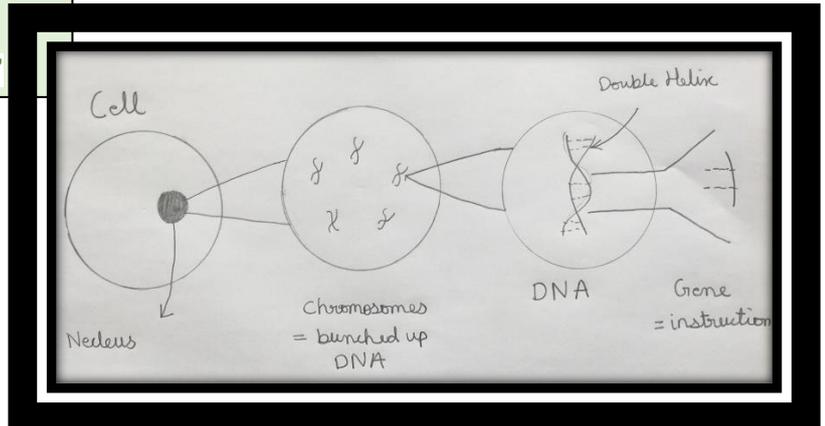

Past tense

In the old-fashioned pet shop, another person had found their fuzzy funny friend. Their pet. In the old, dim, rusty pet shop, there was a mouse called Snickers. Snickers was waiting for an owner for years. So many years that he didn't care anymore. He just waited. He was used too(o) this dim place but then suddenly his eyes lit up...

Marina's Sentence Stacker chunk for 'Mouse for Sale'

Marina's interpretation of Picasso's Girl in a Red Beret

Agatha Christie (draft)

Family:
 Father: Friedrich Alois Miller
 Mother: Clarissa Margaret Bochner
 Brother: Louis FitzPatrick Miller
 Sister: Margaret Fanny Miller
 Daughter: Rosalind Tucker

Achievements:
 Edgar award master Award (1955)
 Edgar Award for best play (1955)
 New York Drama Critics' Circle award for best foreign play (1955)
 Anthony Award for best writer of the century (2000)
 Anthony Award for best series of the century (2000)

Books:
 Murder on the Orient Express (1934)
 The murder of Roger Ackroyd (1926)
 Death on the Nile (1937)
 The Mysterious affair at Styles (1920)
 The A. P. C. Murders (1938)
 The Pale Horse (1941)
 Crooked House (1949)
 Five little pigs (1942)
 Endless night (1972)
 Curtain (1975)

Arjun's diagram showing the inside of a cell

Parvesh's comprehensive notes in his draft preparation of his double-page spread for 'Murder on the Orient Express'

Swarnima's map of the route taken by the Orient Express

Aishwarya's Latin preparation

Salvete - hello (more than a person)
 Salve - Hello
 Salutatio - Greetings
 Quis es - Who are you? (to one person)
 Qui estis - Who are you? (more than one person)

Mater - mother Infans - little child
 Pater - father Servus - slaves
 Filia - daughter magister - teacher
 Filius - son